The image shows the interior of a motorhome, viewed from the rear looking forward. The cabin is filled with rows of black leather seats, each with white stitching along the edges. A central aisle with a dark floor and white longitudinal stripes runs down the middle. At the front, a large flat-screen television is mounted on the wall, displaying a live-action football game. Above the TV, a curved overhead storage cabinet is visible. The side walls are a light, neutral color and feature large rectangular windows.
